Prospects Gloomy For Small Farmer

Marketing Division Can't Sell First Class Produce—Tons Of Onions Likely To Be Lost—No Explanation Yet Forth Coming

HONOLULU, June 11.—There has been very little change in the market during the past week. The Division has received large shipments of green peas and cabbage from Maui and Irish potatoes from Hawaii. The green peas were the best that the Division had ever received but as the people of Honolulu look upon fresh peas as a luxury only a few could be sold at the Division to consumers. Quite a few were sold to the army. The daily advertisements do not bring the results they should.

The cabbage received by the Division was in very poor condition due to the fact that it was very soft and was shipped in bags. Producers should raise a hard headed cabbage if they intend to ship it and in addition ship it in crates instead of bags.

The onion market is at a standstill and unless the consumers demand the island product there will be tons of the best onions grown in the territory go to waste in the next month or two. A shipment of taro from Kona met a ready sale and from Friday the 15th the Division hopes to have a supply on hand at all times.

All producers should get acquainted with the county agent of his district and keep him informed on plantings, harvests, diseases of crops and insect pests. The county agent will give producer all the help he can.—A. T. LONGLEY, Superintendent.

CONVENIENCE

All the convenience of gas. No waiting for the fire to burn up. Meals in a jiffy, and a cool kitchen all the time.

Bakes, broils, roasts, toasts. Better cooking because of the steady, evenly-distributed heat. More convenient than a wood or coal stove for all the year 'round cooking—and more economical.

The long blue chimneys prevent all smoke and smell.

In 1, 2, 3 and 4 burner sizes, with or without ovens. Also cabinet models. Ask your dealer today.
